Hi Audrey,

Looks good. I would just change the second sentence to the following:

"The HAMP is a proposed regional water system that would supply arsenic-compliant drinking water to four Hopi village water systems serving 6000 people."

Thanks,

Emmanuelle

Hi Emmanuelle,

I need to get this to Paul by 10:00 AM. Does this make sense for the visit next week?

Visit to Hopi Villages: On 11/7, Tomás Torres will travel to the Hopi Tribe to discuss the Hopi Arsenic Mitigation Project (HAMP) with the First Mesa Consolidated Villages Council Members, business manager and the Hopi Utility Corporation. The HAMP is a multi-year effort which would establish a unified approach for the Hopi Villages to meet federal drinking water standards and comply with the SDWA. We will also be presenting to Hopi Tribal Council in coordination with Indian Health Service (IHS) on the status of the HAMP. (Rapicavoli 2-3969)
